Living God's Word

As much as we may want the temples of our lives cleared, we also like much of what takes up our lives. Still, God does come and does clear our temples in unsuspecting ways. Children grow up; friendships melt into memories. What is God asking us to clear away today?

Vivamos la Palabra de Dios

Por mucho que queramos que el templo de nuestra vida este limpio, también nos gusta la mayor parte de las cosas que componen nuestra vida. No obstante, Dios viene y ciertamente limpia nuestro templo de maneras insospechables. Los hijos crecen; las amistades se desvanecen y se convierten en recuerdos. Que nos pide Dios echar afuera hoy?

Mass Schedule

CRS RICE BOWL

CRS Rice Bowl Reflection: Kenya

This week, CRS Rice Bowl invites us to enter into solidarity with the people of Kenya. We are encouraged to reflect on the Catholic social teaching principle, Sacredness and Dignity of the Human Person, and reminded that our inherent dignity comes from our creation as children of God and not from any of our own actions. Let us pray this week for our brothers and sisters in Kenya and all around the world, that we may respect and uphold the sacredness of life and dignity of all people.

Adam's Grave

The Holy Land includes many holy places, but none so venerable, some say, as the Basilica of the Holy Sepulchre in Jerusalem. This favorite place of pilgrimage has many chapels, favorites being St. Helena, and the True Cross...and the "Chapel of Adam". The place of the Lord's crucifixion was called Golgatha in Greek-Calvary in Latin, translations of the Hebrew word for "skull". It was so called in tradition, relates Jerome and others, because of the ancient legend that Christ was crucified on the very spot in which Adam was buried, so that the blood of Jesus would have poured down its redemptive stream upon mankind's first guilty head. The skull and cross bones that appear occasionally at the foot of a crucifix are a remnant of this legend. Whatever there is to this, "Golgatha" is a fitting name for this holy hill, possibly resembling a skull in fact or fancy, on which the second Adam's obedience culminated. (Catholic Source Book)

Twelve Families say Thank You!

This is just a short note to say "Thank You!" The Retrouvaille Weekend held in Tucson, Arizona, completed January 25, 2015, was attended by 12 couples. That's 12 families who now have a fighting chance. By running the Retrouvaille announcement in your bulletin and with your prayers, you helped give them that chance!

Their journey has just begun. Retrouvaille is not just a weekend, it is a 3 month program. Please continue to keep these couples and their children in your prayers.
Thank you for supporting marriage!

HELP Jesus IN DISGUISE

"AMEN, I SAY TO YOU, WHATEVER YOU DID
FOR ONE OF THESE LEAST BROTHERS
OF MINE, YOU DID FOR ME." (MT 25:40)

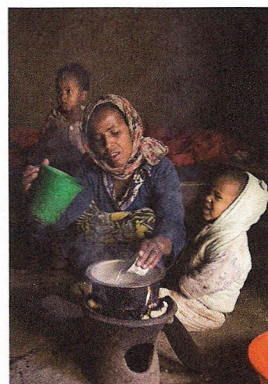

The Catholic Relief Services Collection funds six Catholic agencies that work to serve our suffering brothers and sisters around the world. Through humanitarian aid, resettling displaced individuals and families, and providing legal and advocacy services for migrants, the Catholic Relief Services Collection allows us to see every encounter with a person who is suffering as an opportunity to help Jesus in disguise.

In northern Pakistan, Catholic Relief Services (CRS) works with religious leaders and families to promote education for girls. In most rural areas of the country, education is only available and encouraged for boys. Some girls are taught to read and write at home, but for most of the girls their education stops there.

CRS staff realized that mothers could become primary facilitators of their daughters' education and met with groups of mothers to discuss the value of education for girls. After receiving information and meeting with teachers, several mothers decided to enroll their girls in school. This often meant sending them off some distance to a neighboring village, but the mothers began to play an active role in supporting and encouraging their daughters. And they have now seen a positive change. The girls show a passion for school and enjoy reviewing their homework with their mothers.

For young Nigerian Igbo Catholics in the United States, generational conflict presents a challenge to the faith. Because the Catholic faith is something associated with the rigid views of their elders, many of the young people have fallen away. They struggle to integrate their new American life with the African heritage passed down from their parents and elders and many no longer see the relevance of the faith for daily life.

The USCCB's Subcommittee on the Pastoral Care of Migrants, Refugees, and Travelers (PCMRT) reached out to this community of young people during an annual gathering of Igbo Catholics in Raleigh, North Carolina. Over 200 youth gathered to discuss their experience of culture and faith, voicing their difficulty finding their identity and engaging in their faith. As a result of this dialogue, the youth created their own organization, finding shared struggles and a common voice. Empowered by spiritual guidance and peer counseling during retreats, these young people are now engaged in their parishes, serving as lectors, altar servers, and choir members.

ES Jesús CON OTRO ROSTRO, ¿LE AYUDARÁS?

"YO LES ASEGURO QUE, CUANDO LO HICIERON CON EL MÁS INSIGNIFICANTE DE MIS HERMANOS, CONMIGO LO HICIERON". (MT 25:40)

Catholic Relief Services Collection otorga fondos a seis agencias católicas que trabajan para servir a nuestros hermanos y hermanas que sufren alrededor del mundo. A través de la ayuda humanitaria, reubicando a personas y familias desplazadas, proporcionando servicios legales y abogando a favor de los migrantes, Catholic Relief Services Collection nos permite ver cada encuentro con una persona que sufre como una oportunidad para ayudar a Jesús con otro rostro, ¿le ayudarás?

En la zona norte de Pakistán, Catholic Relief Services (CRS) trabaja con los líderes religiosos y con las familias fomentando la educación para las niñas. En la mayoría de las zonas rurales del país, se fomenta la educación y ésta está disponible, pero solo para varones. Algunas niñas aprenden a leer y escribir en sus hogares pero, para la mayoría de las niñas, la educación no va más allá.

El personal de CRS se percató de que las madres pueden convertirse en las principales facilitadoras de la educación de sus hijas y se reunió con unos grupos de madres para discutir el valor de la educación para las niñas. Luego de recibir información y de reunirse con los profesores, varias madres decidieron matricular a sus hijas en la escuela. A menudo, eso significa enviarlas a un pueblo vecino, a cierta distancia, pero las madres empezaron a desempeñar un papel importante al apoyar y animar a sus hijas. Y ahora ya han visto un cambio positivo. Las niñas muestran un tremendo entusiasmo por la escuela y disfrutan al revisar sus tareas con sus madres.

En los Estados Unidos, para los jóvenes católicos Igbo de Nigeria, los conflictos generacionales representan un desafío a su fe. Ya que algunas veces a la fe católica se le asocia con las rígidas opiniones de sus mayores, muchos de los jóvenes se han ido alejando. Ellos se esfuerzan por integrar su nueva vida estadounidense con la herencia africana que les legaron sus padres y sus mayores y muchos no ven la relevancia de la fe para su vida cotidiana.

El USCCB's Subcommittee on the Pastoral Care of Migrants, Refugees, and Travelers (PCMRT), trató de llegar a esta comunidad de jóvenes durante una reunión anual de católicos Igbo en Raleigh, Carolina del Norte. Más de 200 jóvenes se reunieron para dialogar acerca de sus experiencias de fe y cultura, manifestando la dificultad que sentían para encontrar su identidad y participar en su fe. Como resultado de este diálogo, los jóvenes crearon su propia organización, compartiendo sus luchas y encontrando una voz común. Estos jóvenes, fortalecidos por consejos espirituales y asesorados por sus compañeros durante sus retiros, hoy participan en sus parroquias, sirviendo como lectores, como monaguillos y como miembros del coro.
