Of the mysterious magi, there is little more than mention in the gospel. The Venerable Bede is the one who gives the colorful details: "The first was called Melchior; he was an old man, with white hair and long beard; he offered gold to the Lord as to his king. The second, Gaspar by name, young, beardless, of ruddy hue, offered to Jesus his gift of incense, the homage due divinity. The third, of black complexion, with heavy beard, was called Baltasar: The myrrh he held in his hands prefigured the death of the Son of Man."
