a stranger and you welcomed me, naked and you clothed me, ill and you cared for me, in prison and you visited me.

BLESSED MIGUEL AGUSTÍN PRO (1891-1927)
November 23

Graham Greene's classic The Power and the Glory immortalized Mexico's persecuted Church of the 1920s. But photographs of Father Pro—arms outstretched to image Christ Crucified, kneeling in prayer before the firing squad, crumpled dead on the ground—vividly, visually remind us that not long ago, not far away, the faith we take for granted cost everything! Born to a mining family, Miguel became a Jesuit and was sent to study Catholic labor movements in Belgium in preparation for evangelizing Mexico's workers. But he returned to find a Mexico determined to annihilate Catholicism, and, like priests before him during Roman persecutions, England's Reformation, and in China today, ministered secretly to an "underground Church" until apprehended and sentenced to the firing squad. In his final moments, Father Pro blessed his executioners, forgave his enemies, and shouted: "Viva el Cristo Rey!—Long Live Christ the King!"—his defiant, dying proclamation of ultimate, transcendent loyalty. Father Pro's martyrdom reinvigorated that beleaguered Church, whose countless faithful, never again afraid, would throng John Paul II when he visited Pro's beloved Mexico fifty-two years later.

Happy Thanksgiving to all our religious education families. May God bless you all abundantly. Celebrate safely. Hopefully we will be able to study together soon.

“Once we are hooked on a sin, our values are turned upside down. Evil becomes our most urgent “good,” our deepest longing; good stands as an “evil” because it threatens to keep us from satisfying our illicit desires. At that point, repentance becomes almost impossible, because repentance is, by definition, a turning away from evil and toward the good; but, by now, the sinner has thoroughly redefined both good and evil.” Scott Hahn, The Lamb's Supper

Because of the Bishop's decision to again close all meetings and classes Confirmation classes will not be held in person. If need be we will continue classes either by zooming or personal study.

We will meet again in person as soon as the Bishop allows us to do so. Masses both weekday and Sunday are still being said.
