FEAST OF FAITH

What Jesus Did, What Jesus Said

The oldest account of what happened at the Last Supper comes to us not from the Gospels but from the First Letter of Saint Paul to the Corinthians: "I received from the Lord what I also handed on to you, that the Lord Jesus, on the night he was handed over, took bread, and, after he had given thanks, broke it and said, 'This is my body that is for you. Do this in remembrance of me' " (11:23-24). In our celebrations of the Eucharist, we are obedient to Christ's command to "do this." The priest, acting in the person of Christ, does what Jesus did and says what Jesus said. He takes bread, gives thanks, breaks it, and gives it to the Lord's disciples. He takes wine, gives thanks, shares it with us. We believe that the entire Eucharistic Prayer is consecratory, but we continue to hold these words of Jesus in special reverence. They are called the words of consecration, and the elevations of the host and chalice, the genuflections of the priest, and the optional ringing of a bell and use of incense remind us that we are in the presence of the Lord.

The Gospel today hits home closer than we may think. What traditions do we blindly cling to? Perhaps it is enough for us just to go to Mass on Sunday? Do we keep the letter of the law and miss entirely the spirit of the law? Interior righteousness means a heart turned to God. Purity of heart is expressed in righteous living: self-giving for the sake of others.

Ignatian Silent Retreat

"The world is charged with the Grandeur of God": St Ignatius and our Care of Creation

This retreat will help us realize the gift of the Spiritual Exercises for helping us find God – present, loving, working – in all things, and to encounter extraordinary love in the most ordinary life. We shall be looking into the World-heart through the wonders of God in the great expanse of furthest stars and in the most intimate depths of the human spirit. We shall touch God's compassion through World-care, with the help of Pope Francis and friends, so that we, the people of God, may take even more effective part in the unfolding transformation.

Come and experience the miracle. Silence will be an important part of this retreat, allowing time for prayer and reflection on what God is doing in the universe and in our particular lives. What is God calling us to now? There will be opportunities for personal prayer, Mass, guided stargazing, and optional small group sharing. Familiarity with the Spiritual Exercises is helpful but not necessary.

Father Chris Corbally is a Jesuit of the British Province and has been an astronomer with the Vatican Observatory in Tucson since 1985. The offering of retreats and spiritual direction, along with regular priestly ministries, various talks and writings, have all been an integral part of his life as a scientist. He is author with Dr. Margaret Boone Rappaport of "The Emergence of Religion in Human Evolution."

Dr. Aileen O'Donoghue is the Henry Priest Professor of Physics at St. Lawrence University where she teaches courses in astronomy, physics and climate, and serves in outreach. She is active in astronomical research, frequently leads retreats, is the author of "The Sky is Not a Ceiling: An Astronomer's Faith", and is a regular contributor to "Living Faith" and America Magazine.
